the landmark poetry of federico garc a lorca in a bilingual edition and introduced by pulitzer prize winner w s merwin

in lorca s legacy jonathan mayhew explores multiple aspects of the creative and critical afterlife of federico garc a lorca the most internationally recognized spanish poet and playwright of the twentieth century lorca is an iconic and charismatic figure who has evoked the admiration and fascination of musicians poets painters and playwrights across the world since his tragic assassination by right wing forces in 1936 at the onset of the spanish civil war this volume ranges widely discussing his influence on american theater his much debated lecture on the duende his delayed encounter with queer theory his influence on contemporary spanish poetry and other relevant topics the critical literature on lorca is vast and original contributions are comparatively rare but mayhew has found a way to shed fresh light on his legacy by looking with a critical eye at the creative transformations of his life and work both in spain and abroad lorca s legacy celebrates the wealth of material inspired by lorca bringing to bear a sophisticated theoretically informed critical perspective this book will be of enormous interest to anyone interested in the international projection of spanish literature or anyone who has felt the fascination of lorca s duende this book explores the world of the french artist dominique gonzalez foerster through lavish visual material as well as essays by ina blom professor at the university of oslo norway penelope curtis curator at the henry moore institute Leeds uk jens hoffman director of wattis institute for contemporary arts san francisco usa and lisette lagnado curator and artistic director of the 27th edition of the s«o paulo biennale also featuring an interview on literary creation with the writer enrique vila matas conducted by the artist herself along with hans ulrich obrist co director of the serpentine gallery london uk having pursued a conventional enough path through school and university jason webster was all set to enter the world of academe as a profession but when his aloof florentine girlfriend of some years dumped him unceremoniously he found himself at a crossroads abandoning the world of libraries and the future he had always imagined for himself he headed off instead for spain in search of duende the intense emotional state part ecstasy part desperation so intrinsic to flamenco duende is an account of his years spent in

Spain feeding his obsessive interest in flamenco he subjects himself to the tyranny of his guitar teacher practising for hours on end until his fingers bleed he becomes involved in a passionate affair with Lola a flamenco dancer and older woman married to the gun toting Vicente only to flee Alicante in fear of his life in Madrid he falls in with gypsies and meets the imperious Jesus joining their dislocated cocaine fuelled world stealing cars by night and sleeping away the days in tawdry rooms he finds himself spiralling self destructively downwards it is only when he arrives in Granada bruised and battered after two years total immersion in the flamenco lifestyle that he is able to put his obsession into context in the tradition of Laurie Lee's classic As I Walked Out One Midsummer Morning Duende charts a young man's emotional coming of age and offers real insight into the passionate essence of flamenco

Stilettoed Roses Bleed is Stephany Stiletto Rose's first collection of poetry highly autobiographical each poem provides a glimpse into what it means for a rose to grow stilettoed from the perspective of this Southside Chicago native with a voice that is unapologetically honest Stephany Rose provides her audience to embrace a wealth of compelling emotions

This first critical volume devoted to the full range of women's postmodern works includes some of the most respected writers and critics in the contemporary avant garde We Who Love to Be Astonished collects a powerful group of previously unpublished essays to fill a gap in the critical evaluation of women's contributions to postmodern experimental writing contributors include Alan Golding Aldon Nielsen and Rachel Blau Duplessis discussions include analyses of the work of Kathleen Fraser Harryette Mullen and Kathy Acker among others the editors take as their title a line from the work of Lyn Hejinian one of the most respected of innovative women poets writing today the volume is organized into four sections the first two seek to identify from two different angles the ways women of different sociocultural backgrounds are exploring their relationships to their cultures inherited traditions the third section investigates the issue of visibility and the problems and challenges it creates and the fourth section expands on the role of the body as material and performance the collection will breach a once irreconcilable divide between those who theorize about women's writing and those who focus on formalist practice by embracing astonishment as the site of formalist feminist investigation the editors seek to show how form configures feminist thought and likewise how feminist thought informs words and letters on a page students and scholars of avant garde poetry women s writing and late 20th century american literature will welcome this lively discussion in six essays poet and novelist anne simpson traces the paths of her thoughts from observation to association through poetry language and metaphor otherness and wilderness walking the beaches and trails near her home in antigonish nova scotia simpson studies the connections between outdoors and inner life a hike along a local ridge and the sighting of an owl spurs an examination of birdsong and its kinship with poetry whose own perch is somewhere near the edge of grammar beyond sure knowledge where resonance and insight take the place of certainty what thoreau called tawny grammar following the owl simpson takes us to the underworld also home to otherness and to the spanish concept of duende the imminent presence of death in life in the work of other artists matthias grunewald s isenheim altarpiece elizabeth bishop s poetry and lesser known visual art and the fiction of nabokov borges and dostoevsky simpson ponders the location of the other in what is presented as subject for in this impasse between what readers and viewers and even the subjects themselves see and cannot see resides the death in life the wilderness on the edge of grammar along the way simpson shares some of her own poetic process the final piece in the collection recounts attempts to write poetry in response to a friend s photographs simpson writes of missteps and her eventual decision to abandon grammar in an effort to move closer to the emptiness that form illuminates and that illuminates form this consideration of form takes on board the buddhist teachings found in the heart sutra the commitment and responsibility we have to imagine what we are not here then is the other that compels the poet to write to occupy a place on the outside edge of onself this book is a kind of wild walking simpson says because as i was writing it my thinking became a little wild brambly and overgrown a kind of elderberry bush the walking and writing became almost indistinguishable i d be busy turning something over in my mind imagining a world without grammar for instance while walking in the woods at the fairmont ridge and be startled out of it by the drumming of a ruffed grouse in winter walking across ice i began thinking that the descents and ascents of poetry were like those of the shamanic journey and why was poetry so intimately concerned with suffering did it reveal voyeurism or a depth of care these essays range around nova scotia as i kept returning to the way this province has become the home of my thinking not just the place where i live the final essay which seemed to grow out of the marram grass along the barrier beaches of the northumberland strait traces the connection between the heart sutra and poetry i guess the real question in each of these essays is the way writing depends upon otherness and how it arcs toward a relationship with the other

just play naturally by vivien mackie in conversation with joe armstrong goes very deep into the creative process by recounting the steps by which pablo casals taught mackie as a young woman to go beyond all her formal training in order to become a real musician and it goes on to show how an artist in this case a performing artist may continue going deeper all the rest of her life the dialogue between vivien the cellist and joe the flautist both of whom are skilled and devoted teachers of the alexander technique could profit any practitioner of the arts but it penetrates beyond art into life itself this book illustrates the evolution of a sense of rhythm of a connection to the breath of the ways in which the self combines the resources of the mind and the body of motion and stillness of pitch and meter even more than the above this book tells how to change your life how to get in touch with the reality beneath learned experience peter davison poet editor i find just play naturally extraordinary moving and important account of artistic discipleship dedication communion as well as a deepening revelation of the alexander technique rosanna warren poet professor of comparative literature boston university i think that this is a most valuable addition to the list of books concerning the alexander technique it describes the experiences encountered by an accomplished musician in making practical application of the technique but it also reveals the extent to which one of the greatest musical artists of our time pablo casals thought and worked in accordance with the similar principles readers will learn much from this book about an approach to study and performance from which all students could benefit with h m carrington master teacher of the alexander technique london the funk era and beyond is the first scholarly collection to discuss the significance of funk music in america contributors employ a multitude of methodologies to examine this unique musical genre's relationship to african american culture and to music literature and visual art as a whole poetry latino latina studies lyrical compassionate and uncompromisingly realistic these feminist poems embrace a wide variety of experiences womanhood motherhood affection for the earth and animals the author s love of the native american way of life and concern for the future of the planet her poems fuse the personal and political expressing the sensual world in abstract terms and revealing a belief in the power of poetry to connect us to the world to each other and to ourselves literary texts the arts s sixteen essays explore numerous aspects of both the theoretical and applied relationships between textuality in the form of novels plays and poems and visuality in the form of the photographic artistic or cinematic image topics range from the linguistic and artistic attempts to express the inexpressible or the transcendent in notions of the sublime where the essence of phenomena eludes the communicative and epistemological capacity of words and images to postmodern representations of time and cinematic adaptations of literary texts the photographic image is also examined as autonomous language that stands in opposition to the verbal and the written text and as a complementary mode that shares some communicative structures and modalities with the word while not being reducible to it the thread that runs through all of the essays is the assertion of the constructive or power of the word spoken recited written and the image representational mimetic nonrepresentational to create meanings as well as the implication that somehow that capacity is partial because it is limited by the inherent nature of the means of expression
