this book analyses the use of communication in resolving conflicts with a focus on de escalation and processes of peacebuilding and peace formation from the employment of hate radio in the rwanda genocide to the current conflict between russia and the ukraine following events in the crimea communication and the media are widely recognized as powerful tools in conflicts and war although there has been significant academic attention on the relationship between the media conflict and war academic efforts to understand this relationship have tended to focus primarily on the links between communication and conflict rather than on communication and peace in order to make sense of peace it is essential to look at communication in its many facets mediated or not this is true within many of the diverse strands that make up the field of communication and peace but it is also true in the sense that a holistic and interdisciplinary approach is missing from the literature this book addresses this widely acknowledged lacuna by providing an interdisciplinary perspective on the field bringing together relevant but so far largely isolated streams of research in doing so it aims to provide a platform for further reflection of the meaning of and requirements for peace in our contemporary world with a focus on de escalation conflict transformation reconciliation and processes of peacebuilding as opposed to conflict escalation or crisis intervention this volume will be of much interest to students of peace and conflict studies peacebuilding media and communication studies security studies and ir in general this book traces and conceptualises the changing notion of democracy and demonstrates how democracy promotion finds itself at the heart of contemporary international discourses and policies democracy promotion is widely considered to constitute a hypocritical and failed grand international narrative of the 1990s and has allegedly been replaced by other more pressing and academically more captivating concerns such as conflict management statebuilding and climate change this book challenges this position and argues that the core notions of democracy promotion such as empowerment inclusion and responsiveness are a key concern of contemporary international policymakers drawing on the work of michel foucault hannah arendt as well as john dewey it investigates the notion of democracy and modality of its promotions through the policy fields of conflict management statebuilding and climate change the central development the book observes is the reconceptualisation of democracy from the constituted sphere of the public to the lived relations of the social the book argues that the novel rationality of democracy and its promotion offers a particular solution to governing impasses in a world perceived to be globalised and complex which accounts for democracy s current but neglected centrality this book will be of much interest to students of democracy intervention statebuilding global governance and ir in general the companion on humanitarian action addresses the political ethical legal and practical issues which influence reactions to humanitarian crisis it does so by exploring the daily dilemmas faced by a range of actors including policy makers aid workers the private sector and the beneficiaries of aid and by challenging common perceptions regarding humanitarian crisis and the policies put in place to address these through such explorations it provides practitioners and scholars with the knowledge needed to both understand and improve upon current forms of humanitarian action the companion will be of use to those interested a range of humanitarian programmes ranging from emergency medical assistance military interventions managing refugee flows and the implementation of international humanitarian law as opposed to addressing specific programmes it will explore five themes seen as relevant to understanding and engaging in all modes of humanitarian action the first section explores varying interpretations of humanitarianism including critical historical and political economic explanations as well as more practice based explorations focused on notions needs assessments and evaluation following this readers will be exposed to the latest debates on a range of humanitarian principles including neutrality and sovereignty before exploring the key issues faced by the main actors involved in humanitarian crisis from international ngos to local community based organizations the final two sections address what are seen as key dilemmas in regards to humanitarian action and emerging trends in the humanitarian system including the increasing role of social media in responding to crises whilst not a how to guide the companion contains many practical insights for policy makers and aid workers whilst also offering analytical insights for students of humanitarian action indeed throughout the book readers will come to the realization that understanding and improving humanitarian action simultaneously requires both active critical reflection and an acceptance of the urgency and timeliness of action that is required for humanitarian assistance to have an impact on vital human needs exploring a sector that is far from homogenous both practitioners and scholars alike will find the contributions of this book offers them a deeper understanding of the motivations and mechanics of current interventions but also insight into current changes and progress occurring in the field of humanitarian practice
